Star anise is not related to the European anise plants although it has a similar anise or licorice-like flavor. Its licorice-like flavor actually bears a close resemblance to that of fennel and basil – tomatoes classic companions.

SERVING SUGGESTIONS

Chinese stocks and soups very often contain the star anise spice. In the West, star anise is added in fruit compotes and jams. Star anise is also regularly used as an ingredient in sweet dishes like puddings and pastries. Apart from its use in sweetmeats and confectionery, where sweeteners must be added, it contributes to meat and poultry dishes, combining especially well with duck. Be adventurous and experiment if you enjoy this particular flavor.
